

Dear colleagues,

This year has become a year of discovery and experimenting, development and flexibility, creativity and partnership. Digitalisation, online and hybrid teaching and learning, joining of students from all over the world in one virtual room have become a part of our everyday life and brought a lot of new diversified opportunities to all stakeholders. More than ever we have to be innovative, thoughtful, sustainable, and professional. Below, we share just a few news about our achievements in the last month.

We thank you for your cooperation and hope that in the coming year together we can achieve even more! We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year full of glorious victories, new achievements, self-development and professional growth, prosperity and success!
